

Dear Members,

The GACC has flagged two more cases of discrepancies in format of Phytosanitary Certificates (PSC) issued for Indian agriculture products.

GACC is very particular about certificate formats (including seemingly minor details such as alignments, numbering system and size of GOI emblem etc.) and does not accept any variance from the format formally notified to them.

GACC has informed that such repeated cases of discrepancy in PSC formats will not be accepted and if this continues, it may consider suspending import of agricultural products from India.

Ramesh Kolath
